

Commonweal Institute, Ellee Koss, Eva Paterson, Netroots Nation, Keith Kamisugi, Rebecca Prozan, Matt Haney and Dexter Ligot-Gordon

INVITE YOU TO

An Evening With Mike Lux

Author of "The Progressive Revolution: How the Best in America Came to Be"

<http://www.theprogressiverevolution.com>

Sunday, February 15, 2009

6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Mercury Lounge, 1582 Folsom Street, San Francisco

Event is free, but RSVP required to rsvp@equaljusticesociety.com

Please join us for a fun and stimulating evening to welcome Mike Lux of Progressive Strategies and OpenLeft.com to the Bay Area. In Nov. 2008, Mike was named to the Obama-Biden Transition Team. In that role, he served as an advisor to the Office of Public Liaison and has helped shape the White House Office of Public Liaison.

On January 14, Mike released his first book, The Progressive Revolution: How the Best in America Came to Be. Books will be available at the event for purchase and signing.

Passionate and personal, The Progressive Revolution is as inspiring as it is informative.

Arianna Huffington

Mike Lux has been a leader in the fight for progressive causes for a long time now, and he tells an important story about the nature of politics in America.

Donna Brazile

[Mike Lux] finds the answers in the story of America's progress, which he tells with great care, insight, and originality.

David Brock

Special thanks to Mercury Lounge for their support!

ABOUT MIKE LUX: Mike Lux is the co-founder and CEO of Progressive Strategies. Mike has launched a number of important projects, including American Family Voices, and the Progressive Donor Network.

Mike was a co-founder of Americans United for Change, Center for Progressive Leadership, Grassroots Democrats, Progressive Majority, Ballot Initiative Strategy Center, and Women's Voices/Women Vote. He also played a role in helping launch the Center for American Progress and Air America. Mike was Senior Vice President for Political Action at People For the American Way (PFAW), and the PFAW Foundation. He oversaw lobbying and legal advocacy, field operations, state and regional offices, voter registration and get-out-the-vote efforts. He helped launch the PFAW PAC and the PFAW Voters Alliance in 1997. He was also responsible for coalition building with other organizations and interest groups.

From January 1993 to mid-1995, Mike served as Special Assistant to President Clinton for Public Liaison in the White House. Prior to his service at the White House, Mike served as Constituency Director on the 1992 Clinton-Gore campaign and the presidential transition team. In the 1988 cycle, Mike was a member of the senior staff for the Biden and Simon presidential campaigns. In the 1984 cycle, he played a major volunteer role in the Iowa Mondale campaign.

In July of 2007, Mike launched OpenLeft.com with bloggers Matt Stoller and Chris Bowers. OpenLeft.com is a news, analysis and action website dedicated to building a progressive governing majority in America.